

Are my credit or debit card details secure?

We use PayPal to take payment from you, so we never see your card details, nor are they passed to us. PayPal is a secure way of paying for goods and services over the internet, and also speeds up the process for you.

If you already have a PayPal account, you can use that account, but if not, you can pay by entering your credit card details in the payment screen