

Property Developers

Who are we?

Dream Homes Direct aim to be the leading company in the UK providing advertising for property developers and home owners who wish to sell their properties privately without using the services of an estate agent. Our primary focus is on providing customers with a vehicle to advertise their property effectively, by reaching as wide an audience as possible.

Selling your properties privately has always sounded attractive when you consider how much money can be saved in estate agents fees. The one thing that puts many people off the idea is that as an individual, they do not have the marketing potential of the local estate agent.

That's where we come in. The particulars of your property are advertised on our website, and also submitted to other leading property websites, therefore reaching a potential audience of over 2 million prospective buyers.

How does it work?

- You create an advert on our easy to use website, describing the property and upload photographs. The result is a professional listing just like you would see in the estate agents window. Creating the advert online is easy and should take no longer than 10 minutes.
- Your advert is then displayed on our website, where prospective buyers would log-on to look for their new home
- We also send your advert to other leading property portals (websites) therefore reaching a potential total audience of over 2 million prospective buyers
- Potential buyers will contact you via your chosen method (phone or e-mail) to arrange a viewing
- You show the potential purchaser around the property and negotiate a selling price
- When a price is agreed, you instruct your solicitor as normal

Benefits of selling your properties privately

- The internet is the first place many house hunters look for a new home
- We advertise your properties for sale online to a UK wide audience
- Great opportunity for you to sell your properties without an estate agent, increasing your profit margin by thousands of pounds on each property
- You can supply property details and photographs, and we will create your online advert for you

- Advertising a property for 6 months, costs just £69
